

Your continued efforts to consolidate control over information are not going unnoticed. They are patently undemocratic, serve the few with disregard for the many, and are a disgrace to the founding principles. I would call your actions misguided if I were not convinced that they rooted in the evil motives of power, control and greed. Dance puppet, dance a merry jig for masters.